

"MONA LISA" IS FOUND IN FLORENCE

Great Painting Stolen from the Louvre Now In Hands of Italian Authorities

PATRIOTIC ITALIAN IS THIEF

Man Who Stole Painting Asserts He Did
So to Avenge Spoilation Committed by Frenchmen Under Napoleon In His Raids

FLORENCE DEALER TO GET REWARDS

FLORENCE, Italy, Dec. 12.—Mona Lisa, Leonardo da Vinci's great painting which was stolen from the Louvre, in Paris more than two years ago has been found. It now is in the hands of the Italian authorities and will be returned to France.

The picture was recovered under strange circumstances. An Italian wrote to Signor Geri, an antiquary of Florence some weeks ago saying: "I am in possession of the missing 'Mona Lisa,' but being a patriotic Italian, I desire that it shall remain in Florence, the center of Italian art."

He signed the letter "Leonard" and the antiquary at first paid small attention to it, thinking he had to do with a lunatic. Later however, he communicated with Dr. Poggi, director of the Florentine museums correspondence with the man. This was done and an appointment was made at which Geri was to view the picture at Milan. The date set was November 17th, but unforeseen circumstances prevented the meeting.

A young man, fairly well dressed visited Geri yesterday. He said he was "Leonard" and was staying at the hotel Tripoli. He asked Geri to go with him to see the picture. The dealer notified Dr. Poggi who hastened to the hotel and on being shown the painting recognized it as the genuine Mona Lisa.

Dr. Poggi asked to be allowed to take the picture with him so that he might compare it with other works. He made an appointment to meet Leonard this afternoon at the hotel to agree upon the price. The director took with him several officers and placed the man under arrest.

On being interrogated the prisoner said that his name is Vincenzo Perugia; that he was born in the province of Como; is by profession a decorator and is unmarried. For six years he lived in France and for three years was employed at the Louvre. Perugia posed as a patriot. "I was assumed," he said, "that for more than a century, no Italian had thought of avenging the spoilation committed by Frenchmen under Napoleon when they carried off from the Italian museums and galleries pictures, statues and treasures of all kinds, by wagon loads; ancient manuscripts by thousands and gold by sacks."

He often had observed in the Louvre, he said, many works of art stolen from Italy and conceived the idea of returning to its true home. Leonardo A. da Vinci's masterpiece. He entered the Louvre early in the morning, detached the picture and removed the painting from its frame. He concealed the frame under the back stairs, where it was afterwards found. He hid the picture beneath his workman's blouse and succeeded in leaving the place without attracting suspicion. At the time of the theft, Perugia was not employed in the Louvre, but he knew all the exits and entrances and how to avoid attention. He kept the painting concealed, he said, until his patriotism led him to offer it to the Italian people.

Rome, Dec. 12.—All Rome rejoices at the finding of Mona Lisa. King Victor Emmanuel was among the first to be informed. The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, conveyed the information to Pope Pius X., when he was making his evening report. The pontiff said: "I am very happy that such a priceless treasure, after all is not lost to the world and to the French nation."

Finding Causes Sensation.
Paris, Dec. 12.—With Mona Lisa found, what was regarded as one of the unsolvable mysteries has been solved. The sensation caused by its recovery was only equalled by that caused by its disappearance in August 1911. Special editions of the newspapers carried the news and tonight it was the sole topic of conversation in Paris. The finding of Mona Lisa has been so often announced, only to be contradicted that the news at first was received with skepticism.

"We must get to a condition of affairs," said Mr. Page, "where the practice of putting politicians in control of a public utility must be stopped."

From the monetary standpoint alone, the introduction of the merit system will affect a saving of at least $50,000,000 a year.

Both sides complied with the order. This information is contained in a dispatch received tonight by Sir Lionel Carden the British ambassador from Rear-admiral Christopher Craddock of the British Cruiser Berwick, which is lying off Tampico.

The federals hold the center of the town of Tampico and the water front. Rear-admiral Fletcher has advised foreigners to take refuge aboard ships or congregated upon the water front where they will be under the protection of his guns.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 12.—Formal protests were sent to the Spanish ministers at Washington and Mexico City on confirmed reports received today that General Francisco Villa the rebel leader had confiscated all the property of Spaniards resident in Chihuahua and had served notice on them that they must leave the country within ten days.

The Spaniards in Chihuahua who own property there valued at $4,000,000 appealed to Harry Scofield, the British vice-consul.

General Villa served notice on the British vice consul that he will guarantee protection to all foreigners except Spaniards.

The Spaniards in the city, including women and children, number about 400.

They are said to be hiding in their homes. No trains are leaving Chihuahua.

FIVE MEMBERS OF SCHOOL BOARD HAVE RESIGNED

MAYOR HARRISON ACCEPTS RESIGNATIONS
TO TAKE EFFECT AT ONCE

Chicago Executive States He Would Remove Other Opponents of Mrs.
Young if He Had the Power—Women Plan Mass Meeting for Today.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The resignations of five members of the school board all of whom are said to have voted against the re-election of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young as superintendent which were accepted tonight by Mayor Harrison to take effect at once. They are John C. Harding, Charles O. Sethness, Harry A. Lipsky, James B. Dibelka and Henry W. Huttmann. The resignations have been held by the mayor since the appointment of the board.

In accepting these resignations, Mayor Harrison stated plainly that he would remove other opponents of Mrs. Young if he had the power.

Mrs. Young intimated that she would consent to return as superintendent of schools if John D. Shoop, the newly elected superintendent should resign and if she could be assured of the support of the entire board.

"I never should consent to return without the complete co-operation of the entire board," she said. "If Mayor Harrison could overcome what seems to be impossible and adjust matters so there would be harmony on the board I feel that I could accept my former position."

Members Harding, Sethness and Dibelka, considered the mayor's personal appointees on the board, received sharp letters from the mayor criticizing their votes.

The re-election of Mrs. Young was made by me an administration measure six months ago," the mayor wrote, "and all my friends were so notified. The failure of friends—personal and political—upon whom I had counted without the slightest suspicion that my wishes would fail to be heeded, to give my wishes support, has placed me in an embarrassing position which requires drastic action to show the public at least that I was not a partner in the secret method adopted to obtain Mrs. Young's removal."

Plans were developed today for a mass meeting of woman's clubs tomorrow to protest the action depriving Mrs. Young of her office.

BUILDERS NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

Bristol, R. I., Dec. 12.—Disregarding the old-time sailors' superstition attaching ill-luck to Friday the builders of the Vanderbilt syndicate yacht which is to be a candidate for the defense of the America's cup cast her keel today. By Monday, it is expected the metal will have cooled sufficiently to permit the smoothing.

Washington, Dec. 12.—In recognition of the distinguished services of the late Lieutenant Colonel David du B. Gaillard, U. S. A., as a member of the Isthmian canal commission, the house today passed a bill to appropriate $14,000, the equivalent of a year's salary of a commissioner for the widow.

LACK OF UNIFORMITY OF LAWS RETARDS MORAL EXPANSION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 12.—Curtis Guild, of Boston, former governor of Massachusetts, in an address before the Knave and Fork club here tonight, talked on the "Nationalization of American Law." Lack of uniformity in the laws in the various states, he said, hampers business and retards moral expansion.

"We are, to some extent, controlling corporations, but chiefly by all kinds of local legislation the constantly varying form of which makes the profitable field of investment of today a desert of deficit tomorrow," Mr. Guild said.

The bearing of divorce laws on the nation's morals also was discussed by Mr. Guild.

"We have little reason to boast of our national morality," he said, "until a law, even if it provide that neither sex be chained forever to a human brute, shall provide that no state shall grant a mere, temporary mating from time to time at the call of transient passion to be legally sanctioned with the holy name of marriage."

BELIEVE PRISONERS ARE AGENTS OF NATIONAL WHITE SLAVE RING

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 12.—Officers who searched the rooms of James F. Rogers and Ness Gaby, two waiters in a lodging house today, found what they declared to be evidence that the two men, who had been arrested and charged with contributing to the delinquency of a policeman's daughter, were coast representatives of a national white slave ring.

Rogers and Gaby were arrested by Policeman A. E. Hall after the officer had locked up his own daughter Lucy in the juvenile detention home.

BECK FOUND GUILTY.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 12.—After being out all night the jury in the case of Leo Beck, charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, John Weiss, married on November 4th, returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty. The jury fixed his punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary at Joliet.

CUMMINS WOULD AMEND OWEN BILL

Senator Proposes Amendments to the Owen Bill Providing for the Election of Directors

NEITHER BILL TO HIS LIKING

Iowa Senator Approves Neither the Hitchcock or Owen Measure But Prefers to Amend Present Laws Regarding Banks

BANKERS ENDORSE HITCHCOCK PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Senator Cummins proposed amendments to the Owen bill providing that the member banks of the federal reserve banks should elect four instead of six of the directors and that the federal reserve board should elect five instead of eight. He explained that he believed the people instead of the bankers should be given more power over the money of the country.

The Iowa senator declared that neither the Owen nor the Hitchcock bill was to his liking. He said he preferred to amend the present laws so as to prohibit national banks paying interest on demand deposits and to prohibit the loaning of any money on speculative stock exchange dealings. To provide for an emergency currency, Senator Cummins said he would give authority to the government to issue United States notes for a definite period. These notes could be issued by officials, he said, organized into a bureau of the treasury, or into a central bank, the latter being preferable.

Senator Sterling of South Dakota, read a number of letters from South Dakota bankers endorsing the Hitchcock plan. He said the Hitchcock provision to allow the regional banks to discount a certain amount of six months paper would extend the benefits of the new system to the farmers and rural merchants.

Brings Prompt Objection.

An attempt by Senator Owen late tonight to fix a vote for the currency bill brought an instant objection in the senate from Senator Bristow.

"Do you mean that you want a final vote on the entire bill tomorrow night?" demanded Senator Bristow.

"That is what I would like unless there is objection," said Senator Owen.

"Well, there certainly is objection," returned Mr. Bristow.

Senator Owen then asked if there was objection to a vote Monday night, Tuesday night, Wednesday night or Thursday night, in each case Senator Bristow emphatically declared:

There is.

Senate leaders were still hopeful at adjournment, however, that argument of the bill could be completed early next week and an agreement reached for a vote.

Senator Cummins of Iowa concluded his speech attacking the bill as unconstitutional because it sought to take the private property of national banks in violation of the guarantee given in the federal constitution. He said that banks would be compelled to give up the part of the capital to the regional banks, which would be privately controlled corporations.

FLAMES THREATEN HISTORIC FORT HENRY

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 12.—Fire fanned by a high wind for a time this afternoon threatened to devastate historic Fort Henry, birthplace of "The Star Spangled Banner," turning grass ignited the administration building and the officers' quarters and barracks were endangered. Ft. McHenry has been for some time a deserted post. Only caretakers remain there.

WILL NEGOTIATE NO RECIPROCITY TREATIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Secretary Bryan said today that no negotiations looking toward reciprocity treaties with other countries would be entered into by the United States until sufficient time has lapsed to determine how the new tariff measures will work as a revenue producer.

Some observers here have suggested that if it was impossible to negotiate a successful reciprocity measure with Canada in 1911, under a high tariff measure, it will be more difficult further to reduce the lower rates of the Underwood act by special conventions with other countries.

MAYOR'S DYING STATEMENT INTRODUCED AS EVIDENCE

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Dec. 12.—The dying statement made by Dr. B. P. Windsor, mayor of Mt. Auburn, Ill., was introduced as evidence today in the trial of F. D. Slate on a charge of murdering in part.

"Slate called me a name. I slapped him. Then he shot me," the tight took place in the railway station of Mt. Auburn. Slate, editor of a country paper, will contend he shot in self defense. Selection of the jury was completed this afternoon.

BROOKLYN BUYS JOE TINKER FOR $25,000

HERZOG WILL MANAGE CINCINNATI
"REDS" NEXT SEASON

If Tinker Agrees to Play With the Team That Purchased Him He Will Receive $10,000, the Remaining $15,000 Going to the Cincinnati
Club—Other Important Baseball Trades.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Several of the most important baseball trades made in the National league in recent years were consummated here tonight involving more than half the clubs of the league.

Chief among the deals is the disposal of Joe Tinker, recently disposed as Cincinnati's manager. Tinker was bought by Brooklyn for $25,000. If he agrees to play with the team that purchased him he will receive $10,000 of the sum, the rest of the money going to the Cincinnati club. Other exchanges were:

Charles Herzog, third baseman, and Grover C. Hartley, catcher, New York to Cincinnati in exchange for "Bob" Bescher, outfielder.

Edward Konetchy, first baseman; H. H. Mowrey, third baseman and "Bob" Harmon, pitcher of St. Louis, to Pittsburgh in exchange for John Miller, first baseman; J. O. Wilson, outfielder, Arthur Butler, infielder; Albert Dolan, third baseman and J. H. Robinson, pitcher.

The trades were the outcome of negotiations carried on by National league club owners during the league's annual meeting concluded last night.

The acquisition of Herzog who was a 1912 world's series hero, means, in all probability, that the Giants' substitute third baseman of last season will be selected to manage the Reds next season. This was not announced definitely, but in baseball circles here tonight it was said there was no doubt about it.

Deal Depends Upon Tinker.

Whether Tinker will consent to play in Brooklyn is not known but Charles H. Ebbetts, president of the Brooklyn club believes that the $10,000 consideration offered to the shortstop will alter his announced determination not to play anywhere except in Chicago or Pittsburgh.

The $25,000 offer for Tinker, if consummated, will be the largest outright cash amount ever paid for a baseball player. It also is the first recorded instance in which a player has shared so largely in a baseball deal.

The conditional agreement that brings Tinker to Brooklyn was signed by Hermann and Ebbetts and witnessed by Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club and George Kerr, it was set forth especially that the deal was to hold good only in case Tinker gave his consent.

Konetchy to Pirates.

The Pittsburgh-St. Louis deal, unheralded by rumor, supplies new berths to several Cardinals who were said to be dissatisfied and brings about an exchange of a major portion of the infield of each club. Konetchy, declared by many baseball followers to be second only in rank to Daubert, among National league first sackers, has long desired to play with a team with evident championship possibilities, according to reports and Harmon has wanted a transfer.

Will Confer With Murphy.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Joe Tinker, deposed manager of the Cincinnati club of the National baseball league tonight is "considering" whether he will accept $10,000 for reporting to the Brooklyn club.

Tinker's face failed to conceal his surprise when told of the offer that had been made for his services. He declined, however, to state whether he would agree to the deal until he has received an official account of the transaction.

Friends of Tinker expressed confidence that $10,000 bonus in addition to his salary would be sufficient to induce him to sign an shortstop with Brooklyn and Tinker's interest in the report of the deal appeared to confirm this.

What happened to Brooklyn?" he asked. "That is the last team in the league to which I expected to be sent."

"That is too much money to let me give any off-handed answer and I never dreamed that Brooklyn would bid for me."

It is expected that Tinker will see Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago club as soon as Murphy reaches here tomorrow and he indicated that he would accept or refuse the offer after he had seen the Chicago owner.

FAVORS SPECIAL 1914 CONVENTION

National Republican Congressional Campaign Committee
Favors Meeting Next Year

THREE PLANS FOR DELEGATES

Committee Endorses Three Plans for Reapportionment of Delegate Representation to Future Conventions

SUBMIT RESOLUTION NEXT TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The National Republican congressional campaign committee went on record here today as favoring a special national convention of the Republican party next year and endorsed three plans as suggestions for reapportionment of delegate representation of future conventions. It was resolved by the committee called together by its chairman, Representative Woods of Iowa, that in its judgment:

"A special national convention of the Republican party should be held as soon as practicable for the purpose of taking action relative to the reapportionment of delegates to the national nominating conventions of the party, to the full recognition of the primary laws of the various states pertaining to the election of delegates and members of the national committee and the time when the latter shall take office and to such other matters as may seem desirable."

This resolution will be submitted to the Republican national committee which meets here next Tuesday, together with the plans for reapportionment of the delegates to national conventions.

OFFICERS CONTINUE THEIR FRUITLESS SEARCH IN UTAH MINE

If Lopez Is Not Dead or Escaped the Posse Will Force Him to a Final Stand Soon.

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 12.—Thirteen miles of tunnels, stopes and inclines of the Utah-Apex mine in which Ralph Lopez, outlaw slayer of six men, took refuge on November 27, was searched fruitlessly by a posse today. If the bandit is not dead or has not escaped, it is planned to force him to a final stand as quickly as possible.

Sheriff Smith believes another underground affray such as took place on November 29, when two of his deputies were killed, soon will be precipitated. "Lopez will never be brought out alive," he said.

That part of the mine traversed today was bulkheaded off at the tunnels connecting it with the remainder of the workings. Assuming that the desperado remains alive in his stronghold, this process of searching a section and then eliminating it by the use of bulk heads will, it is hoped, prevent him from resorting to his favorite strategy of back tracking, which twice prevented his capture in the open.

SCHMIDT'S CONFESSION IS READ INTO THE COURT RECORD

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Hans Schmidt's confession of the murder of Anna Ammiller was today read into the record of his trial by police Inspector Faurot in command of the detective bureau.

It was Faurot who arrested the former priest.

Leaving the witness chair Faurot stepped before the jury box and with dramatic gesture and word reenacted the scene of the confession. "I slugged Schmidt on the back when I first saw him," said the inspector, "and said 'come now, tell us the whole truth about the thing.'" with the great work which the sis-serving of much praise. No one in need of medical attention is ever re-

Spoke at Anniversary Meeting of Women's Club—Says Young Men
Should Be Taught Not to Shun Females—Believes Women Have Inalienable Right to Vote.

Friday evening at Academy hall the 16th anniversary of the formation of the Jacksonville Woman's club was celebrated in the presence of a large and appreciative audience.
Mrs. M. H. Havenhill presided and stated the object of the meeting and then announced a brief musical program which was rendered with great ability by the talented performers.

The numbers were:
Instrumental Solo, Chopin's Ballad
..... Mrs. H. D. Crum
Vocal Solo, "The Requiem"
..... Sidney Holmes
"The Nightingale Has a Home of Gold" Mrs. Geo. Orear
Mrs. Havenhill said that the program of the evening had been placed in the hands of the civic committee of which Mrs. J. H. Danskin was chairman and that she would preside.

With a few complimentary remarks, among others that the speaker of the evening had been mainly instrumental in the legislature in bringing about the law granting suffrage to women, Mrs. Danskin introduced Hon. Hugh S. Magill, superintendent of public schools of Springfield and member of the state senate.

Only a few thoughts from Senator Magill's address are given here.

"I regard it a privilege to be here tonight. I have spoken in all the larger places in the state and I can truthfully say and regard this city as unique in many respects. It is a city of churches, of schools, of progress, of advancement, of grand ideas and so tonight instead of making a regular speech I feel more like having a heart to heart talk with you.

Clean Men in Politics.

"My theme is to be the responsibilities of citizenship. A recent stateute of the state has conferred on man increased privileges and with them come added responsibilities and they cannot be honestly avoided.
How many times we hear young men advised to keep out of politics but I tell you that is a selfish and cowardly idea. Our country must be managed by those who vote and hold office and hence clean politics should be the highest ambition of every young man. Of course it takes sacrifice.
Washington sacrificed immensely for his country at Valley Forge; the soldiers of civil war sacrificed nobly for their native land and now the conflict is transferred to the ballot box. We cannot avoid the responsibility if we are to have a free country.

"I have been a teacher all my life and I was urged to take office and make good the principles I had so urgently proclaimed and I finally consented acting as teacher in Princeton and as member of the state senate at the same time. Then I felt I must give all my time to the state and so I decided to give up a salary of $3,000 for an income from the legislative office of $1,500. Then the board of education at Springfield asked me to accept the superintendency of their schools. I told them it would be on condition that my residence remained in Princeton, that I was to perform my duties in the state senate and go about the country making all the speeches I wanted to and they agreed and so I am both teacher and legislator.

Duties of Government.

"The duties of government are three-fold—to protect life, property and liberty of action within the law.
It also promotes the welfare of all as is evidenced by the postoffice, the public school, state, national and municipal governments and the like.
"The burning questions of the day are: By whom shall the government be carried on? For whom shall the government be carried on?
It is inevitable that the government is carried for the persons by whom it is carried on. The government of Russia is a monarchy, carried on by the czar and for him while the people are ground into the earth. Then there is the government of the oligarchy or few, the aristocracy who see claim to be the best of the population and best of all the republican or democratic form when it is by the people and for the people. Not every nation that calls itself a republic is such in reality. Mexico is an example of this.

"I am an optimist. I believe in the stability of our government though the crowned heads of the old world eagerly desired its downfall during the civil war. I believe in the grand presence of our greatest statesman and liberator, Abraham Lincoln, as he enunciated them in his famous Gettysburg speech.

The Rights of Women.

"Woman has her responsibilities.
I see the great army of women in the city going to their labor and I ask who represents them? When a committee of union laborers appear and ask for legislation they receive a respectful hearing, but when voteless women do the same thing they seldom get what they ask for. I believe that to vote is an inalienable right of woman. I believe the home is the greatest place on earth and the most important. It is woman's throne but in olden times conditions were different. Now pure food, municipal government and so many things concern the home that woman has a right to be heard and a great duty to perform, a responsibility she cannot avoid.

"So then let us work together bravely and without faltering, incessantly and truly that government of the people, for the people and by the people, shall not perish from the face of the earth."

BIG DAY IS PROMISED AT INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION

Last Day of Made in Jacksonville
Show Will Be Record Breaker—
Musical Program Friday Evening.

The attendance at the Made in Jacksonville show today will in all probability exceed that of Friday when approximately 1500 people visited the city's first industrial exhibition and inspected the displays of the enterprising business men represented. Many students of the colleges, to whom complimentary tickets have been issued, will visit the exhibition today. A musical program has been provided for this evening and the exhibits will remain intact, no one being allowed to take away the materials of his display until Monday. There will be a watchman on guard over Sunday to see that no harm comes to the exhibits.
Friday afternoon and evening much entertainment was afforded by a graphophone furnished for the occasion by J. Bart Johnson. In the evening a number of piano selections were played by Miss Clarissa Garland and some excellent quartette numbers were sung by Frank Smith, William DeFries, Amos
Marks and Harvey Franz. James Groves, the doorkeeper, estimated last evening that yesterday's attendance exceeded that of the day before by three hundred. There were last evening a number of the ladies of the Women's clubs who went down to the Made in Jacksonville Show after the meeting at Academy hall.

POLES FOR POWER LINE PLACED

The poles for the power line which is to carry current from the city plant to the Wideham and Daub wells have all been placed, this task having been completed yesterday afternoon under the supervision of J.
W. Catherwood, superintendent of the plant. Commissioner Brennan said yesterday that all of this work had been done by men on the regular monthly pay roll and so without extra expense to the city. The city lamp trimmers have done the greater part of this work as they have been free from other duties for about ten days. The entire construction work cost will be held down to a minimum.

A SLAVE OF SATAN

A splendid story, pointing the moral that folly must be paid for with sorrow and suffering. A banker's daughter, wearied with the dull routine of her life, becomes an artist's model under an assumed name. Her artist employer falls a victim to her beauty loves her and she accepts his advances. Finding her faithless and learning her identity by chance, he reveals all to her father, who drives her from his house. She derives a scanty living from singing in the streets and cheap cafes. She is accidentally found, unconscious from weakness, by the artist, who rescues her from her misery. He still loves her, and, taught by her folly and its consequences, she reciprocates his love. So happily as came to them at last.

Do you know that W. D. Cody sells the best and highest quality flour in Jacksonville and that the name of that flour is Zephyr! Zephyr!

To prove this statement we point to the record made at the state fair baking contest in Springfield. The winners in this bread show were:

First Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. A. A. Johnson, 1313 South 10th St., Springfield.

Second Prize (sweepstakes) Mrs. C. H. ones, 110 Bond ave., Springfield. Zephyr flour thus won both first and second prizes over bread from twenty other brands of flour. The loaves displayed were baked from twenty-two brands in addition to Zephyr, some of the best known and most advertised brands on the market today like Seal of Minnesota, Gold Medal, Pillsbury, Ceresota, Ogden, Aristos and Snow White. It was easily shown that Zephyr flour had no equal among them.

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
Established 1843
Published by
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

Some newspaper writer who signs himself "Citizen" or "Constant Reader" or something akin to that has suggested that as no member of the city council is an electrical expert or has had any special experience or training in light plant management that it can not be expected that a municipal plant in Jacksonville can be well managed or successful. The directors of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Company are W. B. McKinley, Charles Zilly, George M. Mattis of Champaign; E. A. MacNutt of Montreal, Canada and Edward Woodman of Portland, Me. Just how much scientific training in electricity these gentlemen have had is not recorded. The way they manage their Jacksonville light property however, is through an efficient superintendent, just the manner in which it is possible to manage a municipal plant.

The police department of Jacksonville will probably take prompt action to put a quist on the very beginning on "hold up" work in Jacksonville. The identity of the man who began operations here last night has not been established but when one considers that the Springfield police force has been greatly increased during recent days in order to rid that city of foot pads and holdup men it naturally leads to the theory that some of the undesirables may have landed in Jacksonville. The night police force should be increased at once to a sufficient number of officers to make it certain that the people of Jacksonville will be safe from molestation on the streets. If some of Springfield's off scouring has reached Jacksonville prompt and decisive action will put an end to their work in the very beginning.

When one reads that under a contract with the local utility company the city would have 800 lights instead of 185 now operated by the city it is well to remember that if the light bond issue carries that the municipal plant will also furnish 800 lamps. A series tungsten system with a lamp on every street corner in the city is what the council is on record as favoring.

The public service corporations some time since issued a list of cities where municipal ownership is alleged a failure. Elgin is one of the cities named along with the statement that the council tried to sell the antiquated light plant machinery and could not get an offer of more than $1000. The publisher should have added a post script mentioning that the citizens of Elgin, a much larger city than Jacksonville, recently voted a bond issue of $175,000 for a new plant. The vote was two to one in favor of the proposition.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF PUBLIC UTILITIES.
(Abstract of Lecture by Mr. John Z. White.)

The question of public ownership is interesting an increasing number of our citizens. That it is becoming, or has become, popular, is evidenced by the increasing amount of space it occupies in papers, magazines and books. Like all questions, it presents many phases. This is especially true if it be considered from a standpoint of expediency. A danger is supposed to arise from the great number of public employees that would follow public ownership of public utilities. It is held that injection of so large a power into our political affairs would lead to much greater corruption of public life.

This notion entirely overlooks the fact that these great concerns are already in politics—are in fact the chief factors of our party governments. Can it reasonably be maintained that there enormous forces (public in their nature) are less dangerous when in irresponsible private control, than they would be if brought openly and directly under governmental supervision. That they contain the elements of social danger cannot be disputed; the question, however, is not how to eliminate all danger, but what course involves least danger—to the people. Just at present nearly the whole street car service of New York is being operated by the public. Bad private management made receivership necessary, and as a result we have (not public ownership, but) that utterly impossible thing, public operation. And, wonder of wonders, this public operation was introduced because private operation by our foremost group of financiers was a complete failure.

This question, like all other important matters, is best decided by taking a broad view of the situation.

Public utilities are different from other utilities in that they require a public act as their basis. The very name they have acquired is evidence of a distinctive characteristic. If a man would enter upon farming, mining or manufacturing he may do so upon equal terms with all others, but if he would supply transportation facilities, or transmit intelligence by telephone or telegraph, or would distribute gas or water—or oil, for that matter—through pipes he must first secure a legal grant. This grant involves a continuous way on, over or through land. The grant being secured, the grantee possesses a power (under the law) not possessed by each other citizen, and so becomes a privileged party. Equality under the law is interrupted.

Actual production or actual trade is independent of legal enactment, but the two essential conditions cited cannot, in a civilized state, be established or controlled by private parties without giving to such private parties a power to levy tribute on all others.

As a matter of fact, we have, by law, given both the land and the great highways of modern commerce into the control of men and companies, and in this way secured to them a legal privilege. At the same time we interfere with legitimate private enterprise by systems of license and police regulations, together with methods of taxation that are burdensome and in utter violation of common sense—to say nothing of common honesty.

It is the physical conditions of life that take highways out of the class of competitive businesses. These conditions place highways in the control of the people as a unit, and therefore their disposition is properly determined by the majority.

In truth, if there were no functions to be filled by the people acting as a unit, there would be no reason for the existence of government. The fact that physical nature compels us to act as one man in the matter of keeping the peace, making highways, etc., is all that gives the majority the right to rule—and it gives that right only in those matters. And for the same reasons the public cannot rightfully waive the interest of the whole people in behalf of private companies. Public dominion of the public way is the only condition compatible with popular government.

The statistical evidence in favor of dominion is overwhelming. With rare exceptions public ownership has brought general benefit—economy in time, property and life. Public dominion may take the form of regulation, control, ownership or operation, or modify any of these in any way. The essential point is that the public, in common sense and in correct legal principle (which are the same) is master, and cannot abdicate in the slightest degree for the simple reason that to abdicate is to violate a trust.

PHI ALPHA INAUGURAL

Last evening the regular annual inaugural ceremonies took place in Phi Alpha hall and as usual the occasion was one of great interest and full of enthusiasm. After the regular literary exercises the debate was in order the subject being:

"Resolved, that the several states should enact minimum wages schedule for unskilled labor, the constitutionality being conceded."

The debate was for the purpose of selecting participants in the coming joint contest and showed that the society possesses some first-class debating material. Another highly interesting feature of the evening was the address to the newly elected officers by Elzie Weber of Springfield of the class of 1909.

The society adjourned to Peacock Inn where a banquet was enjoyed and another fine time followed. After partaking of an excellent bill of fare President Russell introduced Mr. Weber as toastmaster of the evening and he performed his duties in an admirable manner. The speakers were Kimmel, Wagner, Looney, Korsmeyer, Cohn, Bracewell and of past members, Weber, Green and Nichols and all responded eloquently. The meeting closed with the ever popular Phi Alpha song and cheers for Weber.

Resolved, That any agreement entered into between a member of this society and another person, in relation to any fee or compensation for services, be sanctioned by this society, also.

That hereafter we expect all medical bills to be settled at the farthest within the current year the services were rendered.

In order to exhibit uniformity in our rates of charges we agree that no entry shall be made on our account books of lower fees than those contained in the foregoing table.

If in any case however, we should have reason to believe that the patient cannot pay the full amount without serious inconvenience, a deduction may be made at the end of the year, at the time of rendering his bill or at any other time.

But the fee bill at present established being based on a just consideration of the important services which the physician is called on to perform, we feel it our duty, and we shall conform to it in our charges whenever the circumstances of our patients are not such as clearly to forbid it.

Signed, JOHN TODD, President.
C. F. HUGHES, Secretary.

TAG DAY AND TUBERCULOSIS.

An Increase of the Free Bed Fund Means a Decrease of This Disease.

Probably not all are aware that the Free Bed Fund of the Passavant Hospital for whose benefit the Tag Day workers are stirring today, has proved a valuable adjunct to the work of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

This year there will be two cases of the twenty-two, which the diagnoses showed to be tuberculosis and a total of $97.00 of the fund was spent in fighting and restricting this dreaded disease. In addition to this were the free services of the doctors and the hospital. The records of the other five years show many tuberculosis cases treated and confined from the public.

These facts should enlist the hearty and liberal co-operation of all persons particularly interested in fighting this disease and the fund should be put on a sound financial basis so that much more good may result along these lines. Give liberally for your tag today when called upon for those who may be in the grip of this "living death."

Progressive Readings Given By Society Which Met at Home of Mrs. J. A. Nolley.

The North Side Circle met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. A. Nolley on North Fayette street. Roll call was followed by a program in charge of Mrs. J. F. Smith, consisting of a progressive reading.

The subject of Life was told in a poem by Mrs. J. L. Smith, as follows:

Life's a winding highway, going out of town;
Life's a winding byway, leading round and down,
To where streams are running, rippling in the sun;
Glad days are the short days, sad days are the long.

Life's a thing of struggle, fretting and despair,
Climbing up and falling, rushing here and there;
Life is as you make it, love and skies of blue,
Or a grumbling journey, life is up to you.

At the beginning of life our dreams begin, and from dreams we are led to the life of life.

"Occupation" was told in a splendid manner by Mrs. Daniels. Life itself is occupation and teaches the value of ignorance. Blissful ignorance is often of true worth of life. Life is a thing of struggle, fretting and despair.

NOTES FROM THE LABOR WORLD.

Joseph G. Armstrong, the new mayor of Pittsburgh, is a union glassblower.

Forty-four states have now adopted an age limit for working children.

Efforts are being made to organize the school teachers of Boston into a union.

The biennial convention of the Order of Railroad Station Agents is to be held in Boston next February.

Abrogation of the pass privilege for employees by the Pennsylvania railroad has resulted in a movement to organize all clerks in railroad offices into a labor union.

The National Association of Letter Carriers has decided to take a referendum vote of the membership upon the question of affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

The International Alliance of Chorists People—a trade union for chorus girls and men—has been organized in New York city under the auspices of the American Federation of Labor.

The 120 international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor will unite in making an elaborate exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition to be held in San Francisco.

The heads of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada have decided in favor of the appointment of a government commission to investigate the problem of the high cost of living.

The American Association for Labor Legislation will meet in Washington at the end of this month in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association.

Taking the United States as a whole, the annual average wage of carpenters is estimated to be $892, of coal miners $800, of factory workers $550, of common laborers $513 and of school teachers $485.

To protect the life and limb of Ohio workmen a safety first campaign has been started by the Ohio industrial commission and early in the year a safety congress of employers and employees is to be held in Columbus.

A convention of representatives of every labor union in Colorado has been called to meet in Denver on December 16 to consider the question of calling a state wide sympathetic strike in support of the miners now on strike in the Colorado coal fields.

The trades unions of France are reported to have split upon the syndicalist issue. One faction is advocating the general strike for political purposes, while the other is advocating a more conservative policy. General strikes for political purposes have occurred in the past in Sweden and Belgium and have been considered in Germany and France. The strikes in Sweden and Belgium were failures. In Sweden the general strike was followed by a disruption of the unions.

A new labor organization, bound by its constitution to oppose strikes and uphold the arbitration method of settling disputes and also to favor a graduated rather than a uniform wage scale, has been chartered in Kansas City. Founders of the organization, which is to be known as the National Association of United Building Labor, say it is their idea to form branches in all of the states.

PRESENTATION HEARD WITH INTEREST AT THE INSTITUTE.

Subjects Discussed Related to Home Life and to the Many Interests of the Farm—J. H. Pettit of University of Illinois Presents Question of Soil Culture—Awards Made On Home Products and Poultry.

The Morgan County Farmers' institute closed the annual meeting Friday afternoon. While the attendance at the various sessions was not what it should have been the subjects discussed were nevertheless of great importance. Friday afternoon Prof. L. H. Smith of the University of Illinois presented the subject of "Plant Breeding as a Means of Increasing Crop Production." The speaker pointed out where largely crop results have been increased by the methods of breeding. Some charts he displayed indicated what improvement has been made in corn in this regard within recent years. Prof. J. H. Pettit also of the University discussed soil fertility. He maintained that the three things which are most necessary for building up the soil and keeping it in the right condition are limestone, phosphates and legumes. Forty different fields in all parts of the state were cited as instances of what can be done in this regard.

The sessions of the farmers institute Thursday were not nearly so well attended as should have been the case. The program carried out however, was one of real importance and subjects of great value were presented. Home beautifying, poultry, educational problems and good roads all came in for consideration.

Thursday Morning

The principal topic before the farmers' institute Thursday morning was poultry culture and those present listened to a fine address by Prof. D. O. Barrio, of the state university. A few suggestions are given:

The hen is becoming one of the leading sources of income on the farm. Dry weather may injure a crop and many causes will lessen the yield, but treat Biddy right and she goes right on with her work regardless of time and season. There are very many things to be taken into account in successful poultry raising and in that as in everything else, there is no royal road to success, but it must be gained by intelligent attention to the subject and there is nothing which will better repay careful and intelligent attention.

In the first place the housing is all important. The old time idea that we must have double walls with sawdust or something else between is all exploded. Only one thickness of lumber is necessary. That should of course be tight and well secured.

In the next place give the fowls plenty of air and ventilation. Never permit draughts and have no ventilators up through the roof, but have three sides wholly tight and the south side half to two-thirds chicken mesh tight enough to keep out English sparrows, as those little creatures are suspected of bringing to the fowls diseases, such as worms and the like. If the weather be very cold and snow in danger of flying in, hang up between the front and the roof a cheap cotton cloth, reaching almost to the floor and it will answer every purpose.

The chickens should be perfectly dry, for moisture is evil. Have the roof low and the heat radiating from the bodies of the fowls will keep it warm enough, for a fowl is admirably protected by nature from cold. Dampness though is always bad and it is surprising to see how much even a chicken will exhale. The floor is best made of cement if the house is to be stationary. Sometimes we like to move them, in which case board floors will do, though I have raised chickens successfully on dirt floors, where all other conditions were favorable.

Change the litter as often as needed; once in a few days or even four weeks if all is right, but have it dry and in good condition. Have the roof perfectly dry as a matter of course and in general make the place so attractive that the chickens will hardly go out, for if you want plenty of eggs in the fall and winter when they are profitable it is not best to have the fowls go out on the cold ground. A very good feed is sprouted oats; in fact it is one of the very best. Then the fowls should have a balanced ration and that is admirably secured with plenty of sour milk, and next to that the material sent out by packing houses, which is dry and can be kept.

White diarrhea is a great evil, though many troubles are called that which are something else. In the first place many think it comes from mould or must on hay and straw and some will not use either for litter in incubators. In the first place feed nothing till the chick is 60 hours old and then carefully.

It is well to cleanse thoroughly the incubator with a 15 per cent solution of zoleum; wash and spray it thoroughly. It is well to dip the eggs in alcohol before placing them in the incubator.

Always endeavor to have sound, healthy stock if you want to raise good poultry. Many farmers' wives are giving their time largely to poultry raising and making enough to hire their housework done and so having a far easier life.

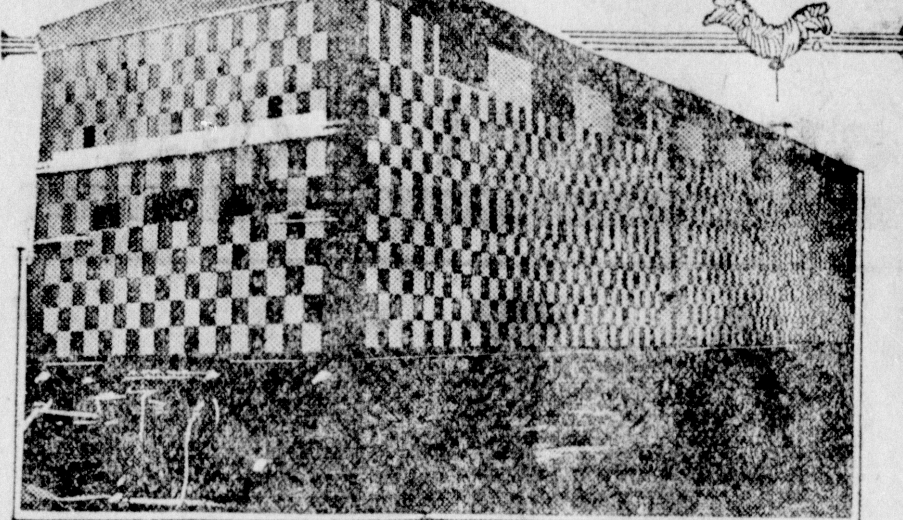

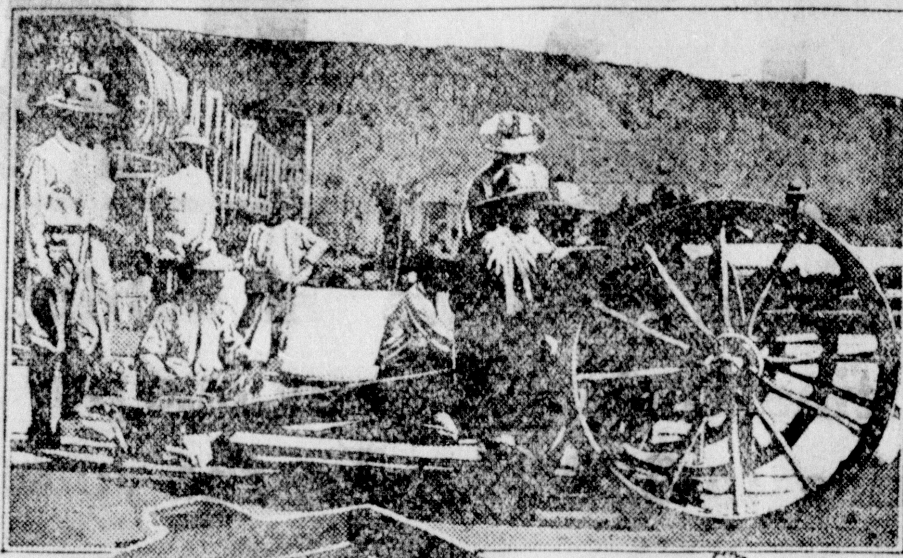

Send your address to Prairie State Incubator Co., Homer City, Pa., and get free a valuable book on artificial poultry raising.

Thursday Afternoon Session

In the afternoon the audience was larger than at the morning session. Chairman Scott introduced as the first speaker Mrs. John C. Hessler, of Decatur, a well-known lecturer on "Home Making Problems." Her theme yesterday was "Beautifying the Home" and the underlying thought throughout the whole of the very interesting presentation was that it is not expenditure but rather trained choice which brings about the desired results in home making.

For a number of years Mrs. Hessler, who is a woman of broad culture and refinement, has devoted herself to the work in which she is now engaged. However, while she has given much time to this work she is herself a home maker in practice and a visit to the beautiful home in Decatur where she presides will furnish proof that some of her Armored Box Car Used by Mexican Rebels, and One of Their Cannons.

Photos by American Press Association.

The rebel troops in Mexico have been having things very much their own way and confidently prophesy that they will be in Mexico City by Christmas. In the illustration are shown one of their pieces of field artillery and an armored railroad box car, which is really a moving fortress. A car of this kind is used for carrying soldiers and ammunition into threatened territory, and loopholes enable sharpshooters to operate while the car is moving.

splendid ideas have there come into realization. Mrs. Hessler was heard with great interest. The themes she presents extend from the building of a house to the furnishing in the most minute detail. The suggestions offered are of a kind useful to housekeepers who have plenty of money at their disposal and to others not so fortunate. The interest in the address yesterday was increased by the exhibit of draperies and other articles for house furnishing.

Mr. F. G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, was heard in a splendid address. Mr. Blair discussed some of the changes which have taken place in recent years in educational thought and practice and offered suggestions which he thinks will help in the solution of the problems which demand consideration. The speaker was given close attention and it was evident that his audience felt that they had been given something to think about.

How We Are "Organizing" Against the Bonds

Those favoring the continuance of the old municipal light plant have been free with their accusations in the past few days that the Railway & Light Company is perfecting an "organization" in opposition to the bonds.

We do not know just what these people consider an "organization" to be. If it is an "organization" to collect facts supporting our stand, and furnishing these facts to the public through the newspapers, then we are guilty of having an "organization". If it means allowing our regular employees to get information regarding the question at issue so that they can discuss it intelligently, then, too, are we guilty. If it means any more than that we are most assuredly not guilty.

The day has gone by when public utility companies can play politics and "get by with it". The people will not stand it, and rightly so. We do not dare to adopt such methods, even if we believed in their effectiveness.

We have, instead, placed our confidence in the good judgment of the people of Jacksonville. We believe that the advantages of making a contract for street lighting are so great that they only need to be made public to be overwhelmingly endorsed by the people. That is why we are doing this advertising. The street lighting contract can only be fairly obtained by us through our placing all the available facts before the people and letting them decide for themselves what they want. That is what we are doing and that is the full extent of our "organization" in opposition to the bond issue.

Our cause cannot suffer from publicity. We want it. We want the facts put before the people, and we are willing to abide by the people's judgment. We could not make a success of our business unless it was backed by the good will of the people. Therefore we are asking, through the newspapers, that the people get the full facts and then vote as their judgment dictates.

DOWN MOVEMENT OF STOCKS BRINGS SUBSTANTIAL LOSSES

Trading Is Quiet and Decline In General Is Considerably Larger Than Previous Day's Slump.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A steady downward movement of stocks today brought about general and substantial losses. Trading was quiet and there was nothing to correspond with the violent slump of New Haven yesterday, but the decline in general was considerably larger. The market showed no recuperative power, closing at the day's low level.
In some of its aspects, today's market was more disturbing to the bulls than the preceding session.

The day's news on the whole was favorable. Traders on the long side yesterday's sharp decline but the market showed no inclination to rally.

New Haven reached another new low record at 65 1/2.

American Telephone, New York Central and Pennsylvania were again heavy, the latter going to 106 1/2; the bottom price for the movement. Several other stocks made low records.

News from the copper and steel trades was more cheerful.

Call money worked easier and a gain of $5,000,000 cash for the banks on the week was predicted.
High rates here have attracted funds from the interior.

SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Scarcely Any Hair on Head. Terrible Itching. Also Bothered With Pimples and Blackheads on Face. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Both Troubles.

Greenwood, Ind. — "First my hair began to fall, then my scalp itched and burned when I became warm. I had pimples on my scalp; my hair was falling out gradually until I had scarcely any hair on my head. I couldn't keep the dandruff off at all. My hair was dry and lifeless and I lost rest at night from the terrible itching sensation. I would pull my hair off and scratch my head any place I happened to be.

"For several years I was bothered with pimples on my face. Some of them were hard red spots, some were full of matter, and many blackheads. I was always picking at them and caused them to be sore. They made my face look so badly I was ashamed to be seen.

"I tried washing my head with Cuticura Soap, dried without rinsing, then put the Cuticura Ointment on and rubbed it into the scalp. I applied the Cuticura Soap and Ointment the same each week until cured. Three months' use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment has made my face as smooth and clean as can be." (Signed) C. M. Hamilton, Sept. 24, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

GROWING ORCHARDS DISCUSSED AT FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Speaker Points Out That Fruit Can Do Well in This Locality, if Properly Cared For—Selecting Seed Corn Important Matter.

The morning program at the farmers' institute was somewhat varied from that published yesterday and the first number was an excellent address by J. W. Bowen of this city on fruit culture or more properly fruit raising. The gentleman was certainly a wise selection for the first place his experience shows that "nothing succeeds like success" and he had a right to speak from actual experience. Three years ago he was hunting a few miles east of the city and saw an orchard of some fourteen acres mostly apple trees with a few peach, cherry, pear and others. It had been grossly neglected and was doing little or no good. Seeing the owner of the farm in the city not long after he rallied him on the condition of things and the man replied that he would lease Mr. Bowen the orchard if the latter thought he could do anything with it. The result was a lease and at once Mr. Bowen began work on an orchard which the owner had fully intended to pull up by the roots.

The Effect of Trimming.
He first trimmed several tons of limbs from the trees and disposed of them and then turned his attention to spraying. He thinks it a good idea in order effectually to destroy all enemies to the trees to spray from one to three times between the latter part of November and the first of April. Then just before the opening of the buds, about three weeks about the first of the middle of July. At the end of the first year or when the first crop of apples was ready to be picked a buyer came around and carefully examined the orchard and said he was looking for San Jose scale but found none, though he said it was the first orchard he had seen that was free from it. The drawbacks which attend the producing of apples are mainly four—San Jose scale, codling moth, fungus, weather.

Can Raise Fruit Here.
"We can raise as good fruit in this locality as any other part of the country if we attend to it. The orchard which I have leased was ready to be destroyed and now it yields its owner as much income as any other forty acres on his farm. I have had little trouble with any of the above four drawbacks though have some moths and scale and am certain they come from neighbors who take no care of their trees. There is a law in some states requiring owners of fruit trees to care for them so as not to infest the trees of others and if they neglect it the officials do it for them and charge it against the land which would be well in this state.

"The present year was hard on account of the weather though hardly any of my fruit fell and I had a fair crop while my neighbors lost most of their crops that way. I had customers from several other counties who drove into my orchard and wondered why it was that I had so many apples and I told them it was because I attended to the orchard.

Good Spraying Solution.
"A good spraying solution can generally be bought though if you make it yourself you are rather more likely to get a good article. The ratio I use is half a gallon to fifty of water for peaches; a gallon for cherries and pears; one and one-half for apples and five in the winter when there is no foliage on the trees and never spray when the blossoms are out. Spraying is best done with a gasoline engine as the material should be thoroughly scattered all over the trees to be effective. It may be done by hand but it is very hard work to do it right. The material should not go on the trees in a little stream but be sprayed carefully and thoroughly all over. I like best a four-cycle engine and it can be used all about the place for washing, sawing wood and many other things. Arsenal of lead mixed with the spraying mixture is good to use right after blooming time. It helps kill the San Jose scale best of anything. One female will produce from a million to a million and a half in a year.

"It is well to cultivate an orchard thoroughly and plant a covering crop like oats or something of the kind, possibly, and fertilize about the trees, give them for them and it will pay well." Mr. Bowen's success under the circumstances he mentions certainly entitles him to a respectful hearing.

Selecting Seed Corn.
L. H. Smith of the State university spoke next of plant breeding on the farm. He showed several ears of corn, one eight ounces, one sixteen and one twenty-four, so that a crop with a maximum number of those respective ears would mean 32, 64 and 128 bushels respectively to the acre. He showed a chart that corn will not always produce its own kind for it may breed back and show effects of a father, grandfather or great grandfather. A man may raise his own seed by using proper care. It is better to select seed corn from the stalk than any other way. Seed is the best from hills in which there are several stalks. Low growing ears mature soonest. Gather seed corn early.

REPORT RETAIL TRADE IRREGULARLY BETTER

SENTIMENT IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES IS IMPROVING OF LATE.

Jobbing Trade is Quiet Awaiting Inventory Season—Wholesale and Far-Future Trade Still Under Check Rein of Conservation.

New York, Dec. 12.—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

While evidences accumulate of the reactionary trend of business a disposition is manifest in some quarters to take a more hopeful view of the general outlook. Sentiment in financial circles has improved noticeably of late and it is significant that a better feeling exists in the iron and steel trade, particularly in the Pittsburgh district. Reports from that center indicate larger buying of railway equipment than for several months and concessions in prices are of less frequent occurrence, thus suggesting that the bottom point has about been reached.

Additional encouragement is derived from the fact that the decline in the unfilled tonnage of the leading interest last month was considerably smaller than anticipated, although restriction of output held the decline in check. Certain other statistical comparisons for November were not so favorable.

Bradstreet's Report.
New York, Dec. 12.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Out of the rather confused reports received this week there are obtainable items of cheerful import. Retail trade is irregularly better. Jobbing trade tends to quiet as inventory season approaches. Wholesale and far-future trade is still under the check-rein of conservation.

The financial situation is depressed by the passing of the New Haven dividend and some other stocks have struck the low of the year but the belief has been fostered this week that financial affairs abroad are better, developments being the lowering of the German bank rate and the strong position of the Bank of England.

Business failures for the week were 571 which compares with 281 in 1912.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Jacksonville Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Jacksonville citizen, given in his own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Jacksonville citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?
Mrs. J. H. Allen, 430 S. Main St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I can strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they did me a world of good. Often I was so dizzy that I couldn't see and I also felt nervous. My kidneys were weak and I had backache. Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Allen had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FACING GALLOWS BECOMES A HABIT.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 12.—Confident that no harm will befall him so long as he retains possession of the left hind foot of a rabbit "killed in a graveyard on a moonlight night," Ervin Pope, a Calhoun county negro, was apparently the least concerned man confined in the Jefferson county jail here today, notwithstanding the fact that this was the day set for his execution. Being sentenced to death has become a regular habit with Pope. Five times has the negro been sentenced to die on the gallows and five times has the date for the execution been fixed. Each time his neck has been saved by an appeal to the higher court, though the condemned man is inclined to believe that the rabbit's foot had more to do with prolonging his life than the action of his lawyers in taking an appeal. The crime of which he was convicted was the murder of J. B. McClurkin, a planter living near Anniston. It is expected Pope's case will be tried for the sixth time early in the new year.

GOOD ROADS AND AUTOS.

Editor Journal:

I would like to say a few words in regard to the relation of automobiles to the Good Roads proposition. As upholders of civilization and progenitors of avenues of commerce, automobiles have displaced the paraphernalia of ancient war. Time was, when roads were built chiefly to serve as highways over which armies might be led, and their use for commercial purposes was but purely accidental. The universal adoption of horse-drawn vehicles led to the changing of the intent behind road building; but if anything were needed to accentuate the necessity of good roads for mercantile and pleasure purposes alone, it has been supplied by the comparatively recent coming of the motor driven conveyance. In the early ages in the world, so history chronicles, there were no roads worthy of name. In the pagan world the Apian way held first place, chiefly because it was the best road of the mightiest nation. Many a saddle-wary plebeian and haughty patriarch, more than once had cause to take the name of one of their gods in vain because of the roughness of the chariot path over which they passed.

Until the Apian Way was completed, when they had cause to thank their gods that some contractor had succeeded in putting it over on the senate. But the Apian Way was only one of many fine roads that were built by the Romans while they swayed the world. Every country over which Rome once held jurisdiction, today exhibits relics of the fine military roads built by Roman generals to provide quick and efficient transportation for their armies. Some of the best preserved specimens of Roman roadbuilding are to be found in the British Isles. With the breaking up of the Roman Empire, the roads of the world fell into decay. Paths wide enough for horse and rider served every need. But at the beginning of the eighteenth century, the world was destined to see another such road-builder as the Caesars. Napoleon Bonaparte being a military genius, was one of the world's foremost advocates of good roads. Had there been a macadamized road between Moscow and the French border it is probable that Napoleon's retreat from that city would not have been so disastrous.

Commerce grew by leaps and bounds when other countries began to build roads in earnest. But it was not commerce primarily that led to their building. There was still a lingering of the war motive. Then the lumbering coach, with its out-riders, passed into oblivion to make way for lighter horse-drawn vehicles. Road-building jumped ahead a pace. Wagons came into use, and farmers constructed "taps" into the markets of nearby cities. These "taps" multiplied in number and grew in practicability of construction until the present day road came into its own. Climatic, however, was the inventing of the motor driven vehicle, and its perfection by some of the greatest mechanics of the age.

Until now, Automobiledom, and automobile manufacturers, and automobile owners, everywhere insist on good roads. As fast as enough of them locate in a certain territory, a good road appears. All over the world auto owners are agitating good roads and are building better roads. Never before in the history of the world have so many miles of good roads been built in a century as have been laid throughout the globe in the last decade. The automobile is the reason. Cities formerly great distances apart, connected only by railroad lines and poorly constructed roads, are now being brought next door to each other.

Commercial relations everywhere are growing like toadstools, springing into full size in a night. And the credit of all this progress in road-building, which is going on with an ever increasing impetus, must be given to automobiles and automobile manufacturers. The manufacturers are doing everything in their power to bring about and encourage good road legislation all over the country. They realize that good roads mean better business, not only to automobile manufacturers, but to every commercial enterprise in the business world. There are more than nine hundred thousand automobiles in operation today, and every owner of a car is a booster for good roads. Why? Because he knows that it will benefit not only himself, but every body else, and every other line of business.

How many farmers will you find that, in the last fifteen years, have not paid out enough money in the way of road tax to have builded a permanent road along the entire length of his farm. Are you still going to keep it up? Are you going to become a booster for good roads, and join the good road movement? It is not weak, half-hearted determination that will produce this result. The desire that arouses the will to action, must be so keen, so determined, as to be practically irresistible. It is when desire has bred this determination in the heart, that the ordinary obstacles of life are easy to overcome, and we plow our way to success, regardless of such factors as opposing circumstances and adverse environment. Come, let us get together, and let us first educate ourselves, so that we may be able to educate others, and then let us educate our representatives that they may know how to vote intelligently and let us legislate for good roads, and build a monument to our memory.

POULTRY MEN PLAN AMALGAMATION

Meeting of Local Association Tuesday Evening to Appoint Delegates to G-T-Together Conference.

Officials from the poultry association of Greene county have been conferring with local fanciers this week on the desirability of uniting the two county organizations or possibly forming a tri-county association. With an organization including Morgan and Greene counties, alone, officials declare, it would be possible to have at least a thousand bird show each year. This would be held in Greene and Morgan counties, alternately. Scott county has been invited to join in the proposed amalgamation and it is possible that Jersey county may be included.

At White Hall Friday the 19th, a meeting will be held to decide definitely on the question. For the purpose of appointing delegates to this conference, a meeting will be held Tuesday night of the Morgan county society.

The Greene county officials who are in the city this week include the president of the association, H. C. Wilhite of Greenfield; an expert, Geo. D. Hedrick; Dr. H. A. Foreman of White Hall, the vice-president; Miss Louise Missenbach, the treasurer; Dr. W. H. Pritchett of White Hall, the secretary; and Norman Davis, Morton E. Thomas and Frank V. Hays, directors of the Greene County Poultry Association.

Submitting to the Inevitable

The different cloak manufacturers on Dec. 1, 2 and 3 held their Annual Clearance Sale. This year their concessions were a total and absolute surrender to the peculiarly unusual weather conditions.

It happened to have been our lot to start in the Cloak and Suit business just at its unfoldment and to have followed it closely in all the different phases of its remarkable development.

Never in the last 20 years have the weather conditions been more unfavorable and never has there been more clean and desirable merchandise thrown on the market at such ruinous prices.

Our knowledge of the distribution facilities of this store led us to purchase largely with perfect confidence in the belief that these hundreds of cloaks would be sold in Jacksonville and vicinity.

A fact to be remembered, is that being sole agents for the PRINTZESS garments, we are the only ones empowered to show their goods at reduced prices. All cloaks are priced in six groups. Hundreds in all to select from with perfect confidence in the styles and guaranteed wearing qualities.

Mr. Garner was a veteran of the civil war and a member of Jacksonville Lodge No. 570, A. F. & A. M. His funeral will take place Monday and will be in charge of the Aurora Masonic lodge of St. Louis.

Shinn.
Friends in the city have received word of the death of Mrs. Catherine Shinn, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Fisher of Newburg, Mo. The Shinn family formerly resided in Jacksonville, where the father for a number of years was employed at the state school for the blind. His daughter, Miss Minnie Shinn, before her marriage, was employed for a number of years at the Hoffman Bros. store now owned by F. J. Waddell & company.

Mrs. Shinn died this week, following an acute attack of indigestion, which she suffered after an evening meal. For some time the Shinn family resided in Pittsfield.

Capps.
Word was received here last evening of the death Friday of Thornton Capps, who passed away at his home in Greenfield after a protracted illness. The deceased was a cousin of Stephen R. Capps of Jacksonville and was a prominent resident of Greene county.

Thornton Gilmer Capps was born in Macoupin county, between seventy five and eighty years ago, the son of John and Sarah Gilmer Capps. He removed at an early age to Greene county, residing on a farm at first and later going to Greenfield. He was united in marriage to Miss Anna Hartsook, who preceded him in death in June of the present year. He is survived by one brother, Caleb Capps of Palmyra, one daughter, Miss Mabel, of Greenfield and two sons, John of Oklahoma and Charles of St. Louis.

Mr. Capps was a man of true and noble character with an unblemished reputation for square dealing and true Christianity. From early life, a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, he never forgot his boyhood affiliation. He was a Mason and a member of Welser post, G. A. R. of Greenfield.

In the civil war Mr. Capps saw three years of hard service, being mustered out in July, 1865. He was a member of Co. E. of the 122nd regiment and was promoted through the ranks of sergeant and second lieutenant to a first lieutenantcy. Among the battles in which he fought were Nashville, Bickely, the Spanish Fort and Mobile.

The funeral of Mr. Capps will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

ROBBER ATTACKS VICTIM ON STREET

MRS. NELLIE REED ENCOUNTERS HIGHWAYMAN AT EARLY HOUR

Was Stunned With Blow From Fist of Footpad, Who Snatches Her Pocketbook and Runs—Police Find Book But No Clue to Perpetrator—Man Was Tall and Wore Long Black Overcoat.

Mrs. Nellie Reed of 477 South East street, was the victim of a holdup Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the corner of South East street and Water street, when a highwayman struck her in the face with his fist, snatched her hand bag and made a quick get-away up Water street. Mrs. Reed was so dazed by the blow that she could not give a clear description of her assailant. Police were notified of the hold-up and after a search found the pocketbook but not the man.

Mrs. Reed holds the office of Peacemaker of Iowa Council No. 97, Degree of Peacemakers and at the time of the attempted robbery she was on her way to a regular meeting of the lodge, which was held in the M. W. A. hall. She was going up South East street from her home, when a man coming in the opposite direction met her in front of John Minter's residence, at the corner of Water street. When he came opposite her, he gave her a heavy blow with his fist on the left side of the face, the blow striking the cheek bone and temple. At the same time he snatched the pocketbook and ran at a rapid gait up Water street.

Mrs. Reed was stunned for a moment by the blow, her glasses having been knocked from her face. She turned her steps toward her home to get aid from her father, John Houser, but he was in bed so she called W. Timmerman, a neighbor. At the same time the police were notified and Officer Frank Baker was sent. He arrived while Mrs. Reed and Mr. Timmerman were looking for her pocketbook. Mrs. Reed found her glasses near the place where she met the man, the chain having been broken. Mr. Timmerman accompanied Mrs. Reed to the M. W. A. hall and Officer Baker made a thorough search of the community.

So much time had elapsed, however, that the highwayman had plenty of time to get away. The officer was awarded in his search by finding the pocketbook some thirty feet from where the holding occurred and he returned it to the owner at the hall. Fortunately Mrs. Reed had no money in it, nothing except books and papers connected with the lodge and these were left in the hand bag. Mrs. Reed stated last night that she generally carried her hand bag, which is of good size, under her arm, but last night she carried it at her side.

She was unable to give an accurate description of her assailant, aside from the fact that he was a white man, tall, good build and wore a long black overcoat. He didn't address her and the whole thing was done so quickly that Mrs. Reed was wholly at his mercy. The blow caused Mrs. Reed's face to swell quite a little, but aside from being stunned for a few moments she was able to go to the lodge and conduct the business.

Forty young ladies were present and the hours were delightfully spent in music interspersed with guessing contests. Prizes in the contests were won by Misses Edith Nichols and Alta Kell. The decorations were of pink and white. Miss Henry received a number of useful gifts. They were presented to her in a large basket and with each present was a note, which the recipient read before the guests. Miss Mildred Wright of Murrayville was among the guests present.

Mrs. J. M. Vasconellas was given a very pleasant surprise party Friday evening at her home on North Prairie street, the occasion being her birthday. About twenty friends were present and a very delightful evening was spent with games and music. During the hours refreshments were served.

In honor of his thirtieth birthday Frank DeFrates of 306 East Independence avenue was given a surprise Friday evening by thirty of his neighbors and friends. Games were played and music was furnished by Miss Ethlyn Andrews, Russell Oliver accompanied by Miss Elsie Baptist, sang a solo and Miss Lillian Smith gave a reading. Mr. DeFrates was given many useful presents and after the serving of refreshments, the guests departed at a late hour wishing their host a great number of happy returns.

A party was given Friday evening in honor of Mrs. O. E. Tandy, vice president of the state assembly, at the home of the president of the Past Grand club of Caritas Rookah lodge, No. 625, Mrs. M. Van Houten on South Main street, over forty being present. Guessing contests and other games afforded amusement of the evening and prizes were won by Mrs. O. E. Tandy and Mrs. Robert Clyde Singley. The guest prize went to Mrs. Tandy. The house was decorated with Christmas colors and a happy time was spent. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Albert Baldwin, Mrs. Edward Herald and Mrs. Charles Seymour.

AT THE GRAND.

The large audience which gathered at the Grand last night to see and hear Fiske O'Hara and company in a presentation of a Pitou play "In Old Dublin" expected much and was in no way disappointed. The play gives a story of rich romantic interest, the scenes laid in Dublin in the early days of the 18th century. The life of that day is pictured with accuracy, the costumes and scenery being historically correct.

"In Old Dublin" has a charm and interest about it which furnishes a splendid setting for the delightful personality of O'Hara himself. The young actor's beautiful voice is possibly his greatest asset but by no means his only one and his talent can with truth be said to embrace many engaging qualities. When Mr. O'Hara was called before the curtain after the second act he "sang" his speech and the audience went wild. The supporting company is in every instance company strong, and "In Old Dublin" was in every way a splendid attraction. Today hundreds of people will be humming, "Rose, Rose, Rose," and still other hundreds will be conscious of more "music in the soul" because they were opera house patrons Friday night.

MR. NEWMAN WANTS COMMITTEE.
At the recent meeting in the court house where the light question was discussed Mr. Brennan suggested that if the people doubted the accuracy of the figures he presented that he would be glad to have a committee of citizens examine the books and records and that if he was wrong that he would acknowledge the fact. Mr. Newman yesterday suggested that such a committee be named, that he select three members and Mr. Brennan three. However, Mr. Brennan declined to enter any such arrangement maintaining that a committee so appointed would not meet the intended purpose. He said that if there was a committee that it would not be proper for any member of the council to have anything to do with choosing the members.
